Fitch attorneys

Accra Ghana.

Dear Sir Madam,

I am writing to apply for the pupillage position at Fitch Attorneys.

Having recently completed the PostCall Law course at the Ghana School of Law, I am keen in anchoring my future legal career in a dynamic and forward-thinking firm like Fitch Attorneys. I have an immense passion in international corporate law and Fitch Attorneys' excellent track record in handling domestic and international corporate commercial and cross-border transaction provides the perfect setting for me to channel my passion.

My academic and professional background provide a foundation in which I have developed a good understanding of the cross-border legal standards as well as local practise. I have a degree in LLB from GIMPA, a Graduate Diploma in Law, as well as a Legal Practice Course/MSC in law and business from the University of Law in the UK. In addition, I have carried out research in legal technology and corporate governance Frameworks.

Professionally I have gained diverse experience in working with reputable firms both in Ghana and in the UK. These experiences sharpened my ability to scrutinise the details of various cases, exposed me to large-scale group litigation as well as corporate advisory work and helped me navigate fast-paced legal environments seamlessly.

What attracts me to the Fitch Attorneys is the firm's ability to handle complex domestic and international corporate matters. I am eager to bring my local and international perspective, strong research skills, and business awareness to your corporate and commercial law practise groups.

I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my diverse background and work ethics to Fitch Attorneys. Thank you for your time and considering my application. I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

Aba Noonooowa Osei-Mensah.
